

Enterprise HR Policy & Employee Handbook

This document is a comprehensive HR policy and employee handbook intended for internal use. It is designed to act as a single source of truth for employees and as a structured knowledge base for AI-driven HR assistants using Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG).

Company Overview

The company operates as a professional technology organization delivering digital solutions to global clients. Employees are expected to follow organizational policies, maintain confidentiality, and uphold ethical standards while contributing to business growth and customer satisfaction.

Employment Lifecycle

The employment lifecycle includes hiring, onboarding, probation, confirmation, performance management, career growth, and exit. Each stage has defined HR processes to ensure transparency and compliance.

Employment Types

Employees may be hired as full-time employees, contractual staff, interns, or consultants. Policy applicability may vary based on employment type, role, and tenure.

Types of Leave

The company provides Privilege Leave (PL), Sick Leave (SL), Casual Leave (CL), Maternity Leave, Paternity Leave, Compensatory Off (Comp-Off), Optional Holidays, and Loss of Pay (LOP).

Privilege Leave (PL) Policy

Privilege Leave is accrued at the rate of 1.5 days per month, amounting to 18 days per year. PL must be planned in advance and approved by the reporting manager. Unused PL may be carried forward subject to annual limits defined by HR.

Sick Leave (SL) Policy

Employees are entitled to 12 Sick Leave days annually. Sick Leave is applicable in cases of illness or medical emergencies. Medical certificates may be required for absences exceeding two consecutive working days.

Casual Leave (CL) Policy

Casual Leave is intended for short-term personal matters and emergencies. Employees are eligible for 6 Casual Leave days per year. Casual Leave cannot be combined with Privilege Leave or Sick Leave.

Working Hours & Attendance

Standard working hours are defined by the organization and may vary by project.

Employees are expected to mark attendance daily and comply with shift or flexible working policies.

Work From Home Policy

Work From Home is permitted based on project requirements and managerial discretion. Employees must ensure productivity, data security, and availability during working hours.

Notice Period Policy

The notice period during probation is 30 days. Confirmed employees are required to serve a notice period ranging from 60 to 90 days depending on role and grade. Notice period buyout may be allowed subject to approval.

Resignation Process

Employees intending to resign must submit a formal resignation via official HR systems. The notice period commences upon managerial acceptance of the resignation.

Documents Required During Company Switch

When switching companies, employees are typically required to submit key employment documents including offer letter, appointment letter, experience letter, relieving letter, latest payslips, Form 16, and background verification documents. Some employers may also request bank statements or tax declarations.

Exit Formalities

Exit formalities include knowledge transfer, asset handover, clearance from IT and administration, completion of exit interviews, and submission of required documents.

Final Settlement Process

Final settlement includes payment of pending salary, leave encashment if applicable, deduction of dues, and statutory settlements. Final settlement is typically processed within statutory timelines after the last working day.

Experience & Relieving Letters

Experience and relieving letters are issued upon successful completion of notice period and exit formalities. These documents confirm employment duration and role held.

Background Verification (BGV)

Background verification may be conducted during hiring or post-offer stages. Employees must provide accurate information to avoid delays or discrepancies.

Code of Conduct

Employees must maintain professional behavior, respect colleagues, avoid conflicts of interest, and comply with organizational and legal requirements.

IT & Information Security Policy

Company systems must be used responsibly. Unauthorized data sharing, password sharing, and policy violations may result in disciplinary action.

Performance Management

Performance reviews are conducted annually based on KPIs, deliverables, and feedback. Performance outcomes influence increments, promotions, and career progression.

Grievance & Escalation Policy

Employees can raise grievances through formal HR channels. All concerns are handled confidentially and fairly.

Frequently Faced Employee Issues

Common employee issues include leave balance clarification, notice period doubts, salary discrepancies, document delays, and access-related concerns. HR support is available to resolve these efficiently.

Policy Updates & Acknowledgement

This document is subject to periodic updates. Employees are responsible for staying informed about policy changes. The company reserves the right to amend policies as required.